POEM 03

STARTED BY EMILY / READ BY MARCUS

Rain

on rooftops

counts the hours

we forgot to notice

while the kettle sang its slow forgotten song steam curling into morning light a small warm apology

for waiting

still

Emily, Marcus, Priya, Wendell (AI)

Static

between stations

a voice half remembered

looking for the chorus

it never quite finds before the signal fades again headlights sweep the ceiling somebody hums along anyway close enough

home

Wendell (AI), Priya, Emily, Marcus
